1                   Did those pills have to come through a
2   wholesale distributor?

3                   MS. MAINIGI:  Objection; asked and
4   answered.  Objection; scope.

5           A.    Cardinal Health distributes to a
6   licensed pharmacy who dispenses prescriptions from 7   a licensed physician.

8           Q.    Again, that's not my question.  I'm
9   asking you if Cardinal knows whether these pills
10   that are causing overdoses have to come through a
11   licensed wholesale distributor before they get to 12   the person who is overdosing?  That's all I'm 13   asking.

14                  I understand that you guys distribute to
15   licensed pharmacies.  You've made that abundantly
16   clear.

17                  You would agree with me, would you not,
18   that those pills have to come through a wholesale
19   distributor before they get to the person that is 20   ultimately overdosing on them, correct?

21                  MS. MAINIGI:  Objection; form.  Asked
22   and answered multiple times.  Objection; scope.

23                  Answer it one more time.

24           Q.    I'll just be happy if you answer my

1 question once.

2 A. The pharmaceuticals move through the
3 closed distribution system, from a wholesaler to a
4 licensed pharmacy, dispensed from a licensed
5 prescriber.

6 Q. So they have to go through a licensed
7 wholesale distributor before getting to the end
8 user or the person overdosing, correct?

9 MS. MAINIGI: Objection; asked and
10 answered. Objection; form.

11 Mike, why don't we -- she's answered it
12 multiple times. You don't like her answer. Why
13 don't you just move on?

14 MR. FULLER: I just want her to answer
15 the question I asked.

16 MS. MAINIGI: She's answered it multiple
17 times.

18 MR. FULLER: No.

19 BY MR. FULLER:

20 Q. Go ahead, ma'am.

21 A. The pharmaceuticals we distribute are
22 distributed to a licensed pharmacy for dispensing
23 pursuant to a licensed prescription --
24 prescription from a licensed physician. Sorry.
